

PACKAGED FOODS

These best practice reporting tips have been developed specifically for brand owners who distribute packaged food products to consumers.

Intro:

Canadian Stewardship Services Alliance has created best practice reporting tips for specific sectors. These tips are designed to assist you in preparing your steward reports and to help you identify the proper material reporting categories for the common packaging and paper products used by businesses in this sector. These tips are provided for your guidance only. Any questions you may have about these reporting tips or any questions you may have in preparing your report can be directed to stewards@cssalliance.ca.

General Tips:

- ✓ Please include all secondary packaging that goes to the household such as the plastic wrap around multiple cans of tuna or the plastic wrap around multiple cans of soup
- ✓ Please include all HR related documents and business cards are included in your steward report
- ✓ Stewards may be able to use the Component Threshold Rule in reporting packaging that is made up of two or more different material types when certain components of the package constitute a small proportion of the entire packaging. Please see Part Two, section 2.4.1 of the Guidebook for more details on how to use the Component Threshold Rule.

FAQ:

What do I do if I supply the same product to both commercial and residential consumers?

If you supply the same product to residential consumers and commercial customers, the PPP associated with the product supplied to commercial (IC&I) customers should be excluded from your report if the commercial customer never re-supplies the material to a residential consumer and will dispose of the PPP through commercial waste management services. Stewards must report on all PPP associated with products supplied to residential consumers. Stewards must be able to demonstrate that the PPP excluded from their report was supplied to commercial customers for their consumption and does not enter the residential waste stream.

I ship to a distribution centre and I don't know the final destination of my product. What do I do?

If you ship products to a third party's distribution centre and are uncertain of the final destination of your products, the best approach is to work with your customers to secure data about the 'sold to' parties. If however this information is not available, you may estimate the quantities of PPP supplied to each province (and sold to consumers) by referencing Statistics Canada Population Percentage data as provided in 2.0 of the Guidebook.

Do I report transportation packaging?

Transportation packaging such as corrugate shippers or pallet wrap or any other material used for the delivery of the product to a retail outlet that is never supplied to a residential consumer and is disposed of or recycled outside the residential waste stream should be excluded from your steward report. Stewards must ensure proper documentation is maintained to support the portion of material excluded from their steward report.

Why are stewards required to update the Methodology section on an annual basis?

It is recommended that stewards review and update their methodologies on an annual basis in order to validate their approach to reporting each year and to ensure their data collection processes remain current for their organization. Stewards are also required to update the brands/affiliates section of their reports each year with the most accurate information, which includes brands for which they are the brand owner or the obligated first importer. Changes in either of these areas will affect quantities reported year over year.

During the report validation process, variances may be identified in one or more material category. If the methodology section clarifies the reason for those variances, it makes the report validation process more efficient for staff and stewards.
