What is Paper?

For the purposes of producer obligation and reporting under the MMSW Program, Paper is defined as: paper of any description including flyers, brochures, booklets, catalogues, telephone directories, newspapers, magazines, paper fibre and paper used for copying, writing or any other general use. Excluded are paper products that by virtue of their anticipated use could become unsafe or unsanitary to recycle or any type of bound book.

In order to provide stewards with more specificity around the definition of paper and for the purposes of harmonization across programs the paper product category is defined as: paper, regardless of its cellulosic fibre source including but not limited to: wood, wheat, rice, cotton, bananas, eucalyptus, bamboo, hemp and sugar cane (bagasse) fibre sources.

Included in this category (but not limited to) the following types of paper products: newspapers, brochures, receipts, catalogues, flyers, customer statements, magazines and telephone directories. Bound reference books, bound literary books, bound text books or paper which will be unsafe or unsanitary to recycle such as paper towel or toilet paper are excluded from all programs.

What is Packaging?

For the purposes of producer obligation and reporting under the MMSW Program, Packaging is defined as:

- a. Primary packaging ie/packaging that contains the product at the point of sale to the residential consumer In order to provide stewards with more specificity around the definition of packaging and for the purposes of harmonization across programs, designated packaging is hereafter defined as
- b. Grouped packaging or secondary packaging that goes to the household
- c. Transportation, distribution or tertiary packaging that goes to the household
- d. Service packaging designed and intended to be filled at the point of sale and disposable items sold, filled or designed and intended to be filled at the point of sale
- e. Packaging components and ancillary elements integrated into packaging, including ancillary elements directly hung or attached to a product which performs a packaging function unless they are an integral part of the product and all elements are intended to be consumed or disposed of together

In order to provide stewards with more specificity around the definition of packaging and for the purposes of harmonization across programs, designated packaging is hereafter defined as:

Packaging that accompanies consumer goods which are meant for purchase by residential consumers, are likely to enter the home and ultimately be managed by residential municipal waste management systems. This would include:

- a material or substance (such as, but not exclusively, glass, metal, paper, boxboard, cardboard, textile, paper fibre or plastic, or any combination of those materials) that is used to protect, contain, transport a product to a residential consumer;
- grouped or secondary packaging that goes to the household, such as the plastic wrap around a case of water bottles;
- packaging used in the transport of mail order items that are delivered directly to a consumer's home.

Stewards should refer to the definition of each material category when determining under which category the paper or packaging should be reported. Examples provided under each material reporting category are provided for illustrative purposes only and should not be used to definitively establish the correct reporting category.
